

Research Project: Camp X and the Second World War

This activity gives you a choice on how you wish to present the information you have gathered on Camp X. This is your opportunity to showcase your talents in a creative way and get to know more about Camp X, Canada's premier secret agent school during the Second World War.

From the list provided below pick 4 activities that fascinate you. Each activity must come from a different intelligence category. Once you have researched Camp X, create a portfolio to showcase your work. Your portfolio will include the four activities you chose.

- A) LOGICAL:
- Draw a plan of Camp X
 - Prepare a time line of events 1941-1946
 - Do a mind map
 - Create a mobile
 - Develop a glossary of terms
- B) INTRAPERSONAL:
- Write a news report
 - Critique a documentary on Camp X
 - Read a novel and write a book review
 - Research an agent's career
 - Write an agent's letter home or journal entry
 - Critique a Camp X web site
 - Create a board game
- C) LINGUISTIC:
- Write a biography of a person associated with Camp X
 - Interview an agent
 - Write an obituary of a fallen agent
 - Video a scene from a black and white movie
 - Write a newspaper report
 - Create a debate on the effectiveness of Camp X
- D) SPATIAL / VISUAL: Create a:
- Poster
 - Collage
 - Photo album
 - 3D model of the camp
 - Model aeroplane (Lysander or Halifax)
 - Political cartoon
 - Storyboard for a movie or documentary
- E) MUSICAL/RHYTHMIC: Create a:
- Song or poem
 - Rap song
 - Critique based on music from the era
 - Game based on "name that tune"

In your final product be sure to:

- include at least four sources, including at least two electronic sources.
- include a bibliography using proper format.
- include at least four pages of notes taken from at least four sources. Make sure you indicate the sources and pages taken. Always put your notes in point form and in your own words.
- explain the role and nature of Camp X in bringing about the “knockout blow to the axis powers” during the war.
- design an effective layout that makes use of space, colour and images to present the information.
- use proper sentence and paragraph structure, spelling and grammar.